

Scott A. Tackett
Siemens

Scott started his career in the US Army in 1996 where he held leadership positions as an Armor officer deployed domestically and overseas; after the Army, Scott worked at several Oil & Gas companies to include GE, Cameron, Rolls-Royce Energy in which he held Marketing, Aftermarket and New Unit Sales related positions dealing in turbomachinery. His current position is Director of Midstream responsible for turbomachinery sales for Siemens in North America.